

Prof. Dr. Sajeewa S.N. Maharachchikumbura
School of Life Science and Technology,
University of Electronic Science and Technology of China
China

Sajeewa and his research team mainly focus on identifying, the biodiversity and phylogenomics of Sordariomycetes in Sichuan Province, China. Further, their team is working on emerging fungal disease threats to plants in Sichuan Province and controlling the diseases.

He was awarded “Young Asian Mycologist of the Asian Mycological Association (AMA)” in 2017 and has been recognized as a Highly Cited Researcher in “Plant and Animal Science” every year since 2018 by Clarivate Analytics.